For more information about benefits, Chesapeake's sales associate, VAWorking at AEO is great, but I don't get enough time to put me on a weekday appointment at low wages. Overall, it is a good environment and the discount is nice, but I would like to work more time. OakBrook's sales associate, ILManagest, is terrible. They don't give you proper training. Please expect that you will know everything soon. I don't have enough time. They have a lot of things to do for you, but they give you enough time to get it done. You are underrated by overwork. Managers are very hard to work with. Brooklyn Sales Associate, a place in Nice, New York, is not there too much stress to help someone who helps you. Customers can be a lot hard to deal with but it's okay if you use it too. Time shifts throughout the year, but management is fair to scheduling. Cheyenne's brand ambassador, WY American Eagle Outfitters I, has applied for a seasonal position. Barely got time, poor management, poor communication, short breaks and never used my discounts, the manager was not very helpful and neither was any of the other. It has a good atmosphere, but has disadvantages over the pros. People asked 277 questions about working for the American Eagle Outfitters.
